

Colonial Shutter Benefits

- Storm Protection
- Aluminum Strength
- Light Control
- Privacy
- Adds Architectural Charm

Colonial Shutters create the classic New England / Southern Plantation look and add charm to any home. They are a reliable shutter system that only increases the decorative appeal of each window.

The Colonial Shutter is your standard architectural accent for any home or office building. They are easy to maintain and easy to operate. They add a classic look to your building while providing hurricane protection at the same time.

How Do Colonial Shutters Work?

The Colonial Shutter, one of the original window protection products, is made of fixed or movable horizontal louvers, assembled in a frame that is mounted to each side of the window. Some of the fixed louvers are reinforced by additional slats on the back of the panel. When covering a wide window, the panels fold on top of each other on each side.

Colonial Shutters cover standard and specialty shaped windows. They are great for arched windows where easy shutter operation is desired.

There are some size limitations.
